eternal

1. Background:

Eternal is committed to reinforcing and upholding human rights through our Human Rights Policy. We have zero tolerance against human rights violations; and we do our best to ensure that no abuse of human rights happens within any part of our business, and encourage suppliers to adhere to the same. We also encourage our employees, partners, and community to speak up – without any fear of retaliation, about any concerns they may have or any form of harassment they face at the workplace. We are additionally committed to spreading knowledge and awareness among our stakeholders on human rights through appropriate training and sessions. Eternal strives to respect and promote human rights in its operations in accordance with the UN Guiding Principles (UNGPs) on Business and Human Rights, Universal Declaration of Human Rights, International Labour Organization's Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work, Principles of the UN Global Compact etc.

2. Scope & Applicability:

At Eternal, we are committed to respecting the fundamental rights of all the people directly or indirectly related to our business across the value chain which includes our employees, business partners, and communities where we operate. These principles are laid out in the company's Code of Conduct Policy. Requirements for our business partners to respect human rights are also laid out in our Business Partner Code of Conduct Policy.

3. Principles of the Policy:

- Equal Opportunity & Non-discrimination: The Company's Code of Conduct Policy lays down guidelines on our inclusion strategy. The key principle of this Policy is that Eternal is committed to providing a work environment that is open, mutually supportive and free of inappropriate behaviour of all kinds, including but not limited to, harassment based on race, religious creed, colour, sex, gender, gender identity, national origin or ancestry, physical disability, medical condition, marital status, age, sexual orientation, pregnancy, childbirth or any other basis protected by federal, state, local law, ordinance, or regulation. Eternal is an equal opportunity employer whose decisions are solely based on merit and business needs.
- Gender Pay Equality: Regarding compensation, we have always held ourselves to the principle that people should be paid fairly and equitably based on what they do, rather than who they are. We ensure that our employees receive equal pay for equal work. Equality is a critical factor that will further our success, and we are committed to gender equality in the workplace.
- Harassment-Free Workplace: The Company's Code of Conduct Policy and Prevention of Sexual Harassment Policy state that Eternal is committed to creating a healthy and safe workplace for everyone, where they can work without fear of prejudice, gender bias or sexual harassment. We have zero tolerance for harassment, intimidation, or humiliation of any kind in the workplace, whether sexual, physical, verbal, or psychological. This Policy also outlines the detailed framework for handling complaints and the constitution of the Internal Committee (IC).
- Workplace and Diversity: We are passionate about promoting equality in the workplace. Eternal promotes and supports a diverse workforce across all levels. We are committed to fostering a culture of diversity, equity, and inclusion. Eternal's commitment to diversity and inclusion extends to all areas of our business. All our policies are written with the use of inclusive language, such that they raise no social stereotypes in relation to gender, race, age and avoid the use of words and phrases that create or maintain disadvantages or barriers for the people being referenced.
- Freedom of Association and Collective Bargaining: Eternal respects the right of employees to exercise free association, participation, collective bargaining and provides access to appropriate grievance redressal mechanisms.

- Child and Forced Labour: Eternal strictly prohibits child labour and forced or compulsory labour, including bonded labour, slavery, and human trafficking and the same is embodied in our Code of Conduct Policy for employees. We require our suppliers and partners to prohibit the same in their operations.
- Modern Slavery: We respect and promote human rights and have a zero-tolerance policy towards all facets of modern slavery, as elaborated under the Modern Slavery Act, 2015, Commonwealth Modern Slavery Act, 2018, the UN Declaration of Human Rights and the conventions of the International Labour Organizations specified to forced or compulsory labour. Eternal commits to treating everyone with dignity and respect and nurturing an environment of fairness, transparency, and trust.
- Human Dignity: At Eternal, we are committed to creating a safe and healthy work environment, where we treat each other with dignity and respect. Any form of harassment or abusive behaviour at the workplace is strictly prohibited and considered a grave offence. We value individual dignity and uphold the right to express disagreement. We have redressal methods in place to ensure that anyone facing any kind of harassment can complain to the Internal Committee (IC). All complaints are kept strictly confidential and investigated promptly.
- Occupational Health and Safety: Eternal is committed to focusing on the holistic well-being and fitness of all employees. We provide continued support for initiatives that promote a healthy lifestyle and our employees' physical and mental well-being. We are committed to providing a safe and healthy environment for all our employees and contractors. We have various practices and policy measures in place to ensure a safe and healthy workplace. The Company focuses on aspects such as women's safety, emergency response and assistance to persons with disabilities.
- Data Privacy: Eternal is committed to protecting the data privacy of all its stakeholders including employees, customers, and business partners. We have implemented best-in-class technologies to safeguard data privacy and keep upgrading our systems as needed. We strive to implement reasonable and appropriate practices in our collection, use, storage and sharing of personal information about individuals. Further, we do not disclose information to third parties without the explicit consent of our stakeholders, unless required by law or business to do so.
- Working Conditions: We comply with all local laws, regulatory legislations as well as industry standards and practices on matters such as wages and social benefits.
- Living Wages: The Company ensures that all employees are paid adequately to maintain a standard of living. We always strive to ensure that our employees are paid in line or higher than the minimum wages prescribed by law.

4. Communication of Policies:

Eternal communicates transparently all necessary and relevant information with all the relevant stakeholders regarding policies and procedures related to human rights. We ensure that all the employees are made aware of these policies and guidelines when they join the organization. During an employee's service with the organization, they are sent periodic reminders on the same and informed in case of any updates in this Policy. All Eternal policies are also uploaded on our internal HRMS portal (Zoho People), which is accessible to all employees.

5. Risk Assessment and Due Diligence:

Eternal takes cognizance of human rights risks arising in business operations – directly or indirectly. Eternal is committed to conducting periodic human rights risk assessment and due diligence across our operations. This includes identifying potential and actual human rights impacts, assessing their severity, and taking appropriate steps to mitigate or prevent them.

6. Grievance Redressal Mechanism:

Eternal has put a detailed Grievance Redressal Policy in place to have a corrective action approach for any conflict or complaint related to human rights. Any human rights violation or complaint of harassment (other than sexual harassment) can be addressed to hr@eternal.com. For cases related to sexual harassment, the complaint can be reported to speakup@eternal.com. Eternal's Prevention of Sexual Harassment Policy encourages employees to reach out to the Internal SpeakUp Committee (IC) if they have any complaints and mentions in detail the process and timelines within which the complaint will be addressed.

All complaints are kept confidential and investigated promptly. Eternal's Vigil Mechanism and Whistleblower Policy is a critical means through which stakeholders can raise actual or suspected violations. Through this Policy, the Company intends to encourage its employees and business partners to report matters without risk of subsequent victimisation, discrimination, or disadvantage.

7. Amendment:

Any change in this Policy shall be approved by the Board of Eternal Limited.

8. Compliance:

The VP - People Team shall be responsible for the supervision of this Policy. Any queries regarding this Policy shall be referred to the email address speakup@eternal.com.

9. Interpretation:

In any circumstance where the terms of this Policy are inconsistent with any existing or newly enacted law, rule, regulation or standard governing the Company, the said law, rule, regulation or standard will take precedence over this Policy.
